Microdermabrasion

Crystals With Diamond Tip

Introduction...

Treatment is delivered using an electro mechanical device such as the "V-Smart" Microdermabrasion system that gently abrades skin surface using chemically inert micro crystals or by using diamond tip with air suction. After a through cleansing of the face or other areas of the body the Microdermabrasion hand piece with specially designed tip is slowly moved on the surface of the skin. The gentle abrasive action to remove the dead outer layer of the skin and bringing the newer, fresher skin to the surface. This treatment will takes about 15 to 30 minutes.

Microdermabrasion consists of mechanical and controlled removal of the most superficial layers of the skin, producing a highly soft exfoliation including the corneous and granular layer.

In terms of professional Microdermabrasion system there are two choices:

- Crystal Microdermabrasion system is the traditional treatment of choice and rely on tiny crystals that are blasted onto the skin to perform the exfoliating process.
- Diamond Microdermabrasion system operate without the need of crystals. The exfoliation process occurs when a diamond tipped head makes contact with the skin and abrades against it.

In both crystal and diamond tip Microdermabrasion system the dead skin cells are sucked away from the face.
